Mercy High School Annual Report

For Fiscal Year July 1, 2018 – June 30, 2019

This report provides a listing of women and men who are committed to the mission of Mercy High School. It also provides highlights of the activities and the student outcomes that are directly impacted by their generosity and investment. This report serves as a reminder that it's only through the support of these generous alumnae, parents and friends that our faith-based, college preparatory education is possible.

Letter from the President

It has been another eventful year for Mercy High School as we continue our momentum providing an all-girl education for any deserving student who wants to attend. Our recruitment efforts yielded a freshmen class of 113, we dedicated two state-of-the-art science laboratories, and our FIESTA 2019 was one of the largest attended events in our history with $400,000 raised for the Negotiated Tuition Program. Academically, our 66 graduates received more than $6 million in college scholarships and were accepted at 59 higher education institutions. Also our extracurricular activities, performing arts agenda and leadership efforts afford every student an opportunity to excel.

It is only through the generosity and support of you, our donors, that we can administer an education that gives an opportunity for each girl to reach her full potential. As you know, when it comes to the annual operating costs for Mercy we depend on the support of our donors to cover the gap between tuition and the true cost of a Mercy education. You have also stepped up by supporting new initiatives. This year we were able to develop a new leadership and empowerment program for our girls called Kaleidoscope. Not only were we able to leverage current community resources and partners to make this happen, individuals and businesses donated to completely fund this effort.

The budget charts continue to show that we are operating in the black. As our brand slogan says, we have 'Faith in her future.' We also have faith in our donors who realize what a wise investment Mercy High School is. Your generosity gives young women the priceless gift of education. As a result of your donations, we have successful alumnae in leadership positions, powerful professions, families and communities, and whatever paths they have chosen, using their Mercy education to change the world.

Wishing you blessings as the summer ends,

Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM
President

Donors of Distinction

The William and Catherine Callaghan Society
Lifetime Giving of $1,000,000 or more

William and Catherine Callaghan befriended Catherine McAuley in her time of need. Quaker in their beliefs, the Callaghans tolerated, but did not endorse, Catherine's Catholicism. As their health failed, each became a death bed convert to the Catholic faith thanks to the loving influence of Catherine McAuley. Their admiration of and belief in Catherine's commitment to the good works of Mercy, caring for the poor, sick, and uneducated, inspired them to bequeath to her their personal fortune. It is this fortune that became the primary funding source for the foundation of the Sisters of Mercy.

The Circle of Mercy Society
Lifetime Giving of $750,000 or more

"The Circle of Mercy is timeless. It is Spirit of Life itself, which roots us in Faith, and lifts us in Hope, and holds us in God's loving care*..." Those who have entered the Circle of Mercy have opened their minds and hearts to a greater understanding of Catherine McAuley's purpose in establishing the House of Mercy and living her life of service. They offer hope to many and are faithful to her calling to serve God consistently in everyday matters. They are sustaining servants who exemplify what it means to be held in God's loving care.

The Anna Marie Doyle Society
Lifetime Giving of $500,000 or more

Anna Marie Doyle, called in religion Sister Mary Anne, was Catherine Elizabeth McAuley's first disciple at the House of Mercy. She, along with Elizabeth Harley, accompanied Catherine to George's Hill and the Sisters of the Presentation for novitiate training to become a religious sister. Later, Doyle would be the first Superior of the Baggot Street House of Mercy. Anna Marie, offspring of a cultured and artistic Dublin family and the aunt to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle of Sherlock Holmes fame, brought gifts of intelligence, perseverance and sound management to the fledgling religious order. Anna Marie Doyle was instrumental in the spread of the Sisters of Mercy throughout Ireland.

The Frances Warde Society
Lifetime Giving of $100,000 or more

Frances Warde, inspired by the same religious zeal and mission as Catherine, joined the women of Baggot Street in 1828 at the age of 17. Her dedication and adventurous spirit fostered the establishment of numerous convents throughout Ireland. It was Frances who led the Sisters of Mercy to the United States in 1843. At the request of Bishop Michael O'Connor, the first Mercy convent was established in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Among her foundations is the Manchester, New Hampshire Foundation from which the Omaha Sisters of Mercy emerged in 1864 to become the first religious order to serve the Catholic Church in the Nebraska territory.

The Works of Mercy Society

Lifetime Giving of $50,000 or more

The Works of Mercy are the embodiment of Catholicism: "As long as you did it to one of these, the least of my brethren, you did to Me." Jesus is very direct in His teaching; in serving others, we serve Him. When one's charity enables others to perform the works of the Gospel, blessings are multiplied. Christ is All in All.

The Spirit of Mercy Society

Lifetime Giving of $10,000 or more

The Spirit gives Life, and the spirit of Mercy gives Mercy life. The sacrifices of the many facilitate the work of the few, enabling the fulfillment of Catherine's dream that every young woman have the opportunity to learn about God and the Gospel of Jesus, to make a living, to serve others, and to become all God intended her to be. The mission begun in Dublin so many years ago is the same today: The careful instruction of women. Those who give in the Spirit of Mercy give Mercy life.

Fourth Quarter

Year in Review

As part of Kaleidoscope, students participated in a financial literacy presentation by American National Bank.

"Into the Woods" was the spring musical.

Alumnae came back to school during the annual All-School Reunion.

Mercy held its first college-signing day and encouraged students to share their college choices on social media.

Students sent letters to donors thanking them for their generous support of the school.

The Mercy community came out to cheer on the Soccer Team at State.

66 students graduated in May and earned more than $6 million in college scholarships.

"I would challenge graduates and their families if they feel Mercy helped them in any way to become the women they are today, then you owe your support to the next generation and you need to do your part."

Jane Green Alseth '65,
Mercy Board member

"Mercy is a very special place and we, my wife and I, are happy to invest in its mission. I believe donors, like us, know that their investments will be put to good use at the school. You can't argue with a mission where each girl has an opportunity to reach her full potential."

Larry Good, Mercy Board Member
President/Owner, P.I. Midwest

"With my knowledge of fundraising, I know the importance of giving back. I also encourage fellow alumnae to help support current Mercy Girls."

Alyssa Danze Norman '02 , Secretary, Alumnae Council, Prospect Research Manager at Creighton University

"Education is one of the most life-changing investments we can make in ourselves, our children, and our community. Mercy is, in my experience, one of the best places to trust with a girl's education."

Angela Jacobson Weiss '99
Senior Project Engineer
Thermal Energy System Specialists (TESS)

"When I was teaching at Creighton University, I used to take my Education students to visit Mercy High School. Carolyn Jaworski, the head of the school at the time, did an excellent job of explaining to all of us the profound differences in a Catholic education. I donate to the school because I believe in the Negotiated Tuition Program and how it gives all deserving students the opportunity to go to the school."

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Pride and Gratitude

When I reflect on the last six months of our 2018-2019 academic year, two words come to mind: pride and gratitude.

Mercy began the year 2019 with our annual Scholarship & Placement Exam, and I am grateful that over 100 girls made Mercy their school of choice.

In February, we celebrated one of our largest FIESTAs ever at our new venue in Downtown Omaha (see story pages 6 and 7). Our theme was Destined to Shine, and we did just that by raising more than $400,000 to provide opportunities for young girls to attend Mercy through the Negotiated Tuition Program. I want to express my thanks to Lynn and Brad Muse, FIESTA Chairs, the hundreds of volunteers and staff that worked on this event, and all of the families, alumnae, friends, and donors who supported our efforts. We also celebrated Nicole Hahn Jesse '80 and her husband, John. They received the Cor Misericordiae Award for their lifelong commitment to Mercy (see story page 3). Tears came to my eyes as I listened to Student Council President Mayela Hernandez '19 share her Mercy journey with the attendees. My gratitude continued as attendees filled the monarch by raising their paddles to honor my jubilee. Thanks to a matching grant of $50,000 from the Heider Foundation, we raised more than $130,000 during this segment.

March brought our Mission Week, a week-long effort to support educational efforts in third-world countries. I was so proud of our girls. (see story page 20)

This spring also brought a new leadership and empowerment program to our Mercy corridors called Kaleidoscope (see story on pages 18 and 19). By building on our OnToCollege with John Baylor program, our counselors and the Advancement Office were able to provide our girls with networking connections and opportunities to build their strengths, with practical knowledge to support personal development.

In April, we took the time to express gratitude through a donor appreciation event (see story page 28).

We finished our year with graduation. Sixty-six students walked the stage at the Joslyn Art Museum. Their achievements are well-documented in this publication (see stories on pages 10-13). Seventy-five percent of the class earned more than $6 million in scholarships and were accepted to 59 higher education institutions. I am also extremely grateful for the dedication, commitment, and effort of our faculty and staff to help our seniors be successful, and for the support and love of their families.

As I celebrate an important milestone in my life this year, I celebrate the accomplishments of our students and am confident we will continue on our path of excellence.

With blessings to you and yours,

Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM
President

P. S. As Catherine McAuley said, "What a joy it is to be a Sister of Mercy."

Mercy Couple Receives Cor Misericordiae Award

A love of Mercy High School's mission and a dedication to giving others an opportunity are the inspiration behind Nicole Hahn Jesse '80 and John Jesse's long-term commitment to the school.

The couple has lent their considerable talents to Mercy as leadership volunteers, Donors of Distinction, parents, and business advisors. In honor of their dedication, Mercy High School bestowed its highest award, the Cor Misericordiae Award, at FIESTA. The award reflects the heart of Mercy: core values of faith, knowledge, and service that shape each Mercy student.

Their story began with Nicole who attended Mercy and was active in Student Council, theatre, music, speech and debate. In fact, she credits the school with helping to define who she is.

"When I entered Mercy, I was not very confident. The school helped me find myself. I truly believe students become confident women there. My husband and I are committed to making sure other young girls have the opportunity for a Mercy education," Nicole said.

Powerful women were an integral part of Nicole's formative years both at school and in her personal life. Her family founded La Casa Pizzaria where she serves as General Manager and Co-Owner. Her mother and aunt operated the business for many years until they retired. Nicole has worked at the business all her life and met her husband, John, there when she was a junior and he was a sophomore at Creighton Prep. They dated throughout college, wed in 1986, and both earned MBAs at the University of Nebraska Omaha. They have three children.

Nicole was asked to serve on Mercy's Alumnae Council shortly after she graduated from college. She also sent her daughters, Madeleine '12 and Genevieve '14, to Mercy. The couple were active parents while their daughters were in school, chairing FIESTA's live auction for four years, chairing the 2010 fundraising campaign, and endowing two student scholarships. Those scholarships honor two former teachers: Sr. Rosemary Floersch, RSM, SM '52 and Sr. Catherine Marie Franey, RSM, Mount St. Mary '29.

John, who is the Associate Vice President for Finance at Creighton University, has also served as an Endowment Trustee for Mercy for the past ten years. Nicole joined the Board of Trustees of the school in 2015 and currently serves as its Chair.

"My wife and daughters, as graduates, are examples of what Mercy brings to the table: an excellent, faith-based education that gives students the opportunity to reach their full potential and make a difference in the world," said John.

"The Jesses are a remarkable example of members of the Mercy family who give of themselves. They truly deserve this award," said Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM, President, Mercy High School.

MERCY NEWS

A Dancing Queen with a Zeal for Education, Life and Mercy

She has been described as an adventurous, creative visionary with a heart of gold, committed to service with personality to spare.

She is also a Sister of Mercy who is celebrating 50 years with her community and is currently serving as President of Mercy High School. Her name is Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM and her story is a fascinating journey of helping others and supporting students as an educator and administrator for more than 40 years.

She grew up on a mixed livestock farm in North English, Iowa, the only child of William and Mary Hannon. Much of Sr. Dee's time was spent outdoors playing or doing chores like milking cows. She went to small rural public schools until she went to college and was involved in the local church, attending vacation Bible camp, and studying the Catechism.

Sr. Dee loved school and had a special aptitude for math. She decided to attend Mount Mercy University in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to earn a degree in math. Thanks not only to her mom and dad but to many of her extended family who provided financial support, she was able to attend college. She also received a math scholarship.

"Sputnik was in the news and encouraging a young woman to go to college and study math was highly desirable, so I received a substantial scholarship," she said.

While at the university, Sr. Dee was inspired by the Sisters of Mercy who ministered there including Sr. Agnes Hennessy, the President, and one of her teachers, Sr. Gladys Daly, who also lived on her dorm floor.

Sr. Dee knew she wanted to live a life of service and even considered the Peace Corps.

"Mercy changed the course of my life. It was there I met the Sisters of Mercy, and I entered the community my sophomore year. The concept of service was very appealing. Sometimes in vocation reflections I will tell people that I was too afraid to join the Peace Corps, so I joined the Sisters of Mercy. I have stayed with the community because of the Sisters I met, and it is the best place for me to be," she said.

After graduating, Sr. Dee was tapped by senior leadership from the Sisters to serve as a principal and encouraged to obtain her Master's Degree in Education.

She became a principal at St. Matthew's Grade School in Kalispell, Montana, in 1978 and went on to be principal at Our Lady of Grace School in Edina, Minnesota, in 1981. From 1983 to 1995, Sr. Dee was the principal at several grade schools in Iowa. She has served as the Vice President of the Sisters of Mercy in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and the President of St. Edmond Catholic School in Fort Dodge, Iowa. She became President of Mercy High School in 2009.

"One of my greatest joys is to see what students have become from when I knew them as kindergarteners and then the fine men and women they are today," she said.

Always one to dive right in, she has tried many things from skydiving (where she earned the nickname "Flying Nun") to whale watching to horseback riding to participating in pie throwing and dunk tanks.

Since she arrived at Mercy High School, she has become the "face of Mercy" and has a long list of accomplishments. Some highlights include:

- Keeping the mission of Mercy at the forefront of the school's educational commitment.
- Providing prudent, fiscal management. She has sustained the school's Negotiated Tuition Program, which distributes annually $1.8 million in tuition assistance to deserving students, and has made significant infrastructure improvements including a new HVAC system and renovated science laboratories. Sr. Dee accomplished all of this while not incurring additional debt.
- Enhancing the awareness of and support for the school. The school has refined its brand and increased its advancement activities.

She has also lent her considerable educational and administrative talents to several other groups and received a number of prestigious awards.

Sr. Dee is a Board Member of the College of St. Mary, a Trustee of Mount Mercy University, Cedar Rapids, and a member of the Financial Advisory Committee of the Sisters of Mercy West Midwest. Last year, she received Creighton Preparatory High School's Sword of St. Ignatius, an honor given to a person who has striven to demonstrate exemplary service for the Greater Glory of God. In 2015, Mercy High School was the only school to receive the Greater Omaha Chamber of Commerce Business Excellence Award.

When asked to reflect on celebrating 50 years with the Sisters of Mercy Sr. Dee said, "this commitment is a journey. You have to continue to reflect on it and review it. One of the greatest accomplishments is each year at graduation. It is a yearly reminder of why I do what I do: support students in being their best selves."

She is especially excited about the school's recent efforts to support students as they plan for college, and she is looking forward to developing the next phase of the Strategic Plan for the school.

Recently Mercy students surprised her with a flash mob of "Dancing Queen," her favorite song from her favorite movie, "Mamma Mia!" The event was filmed by several media outlets and started a social media buzz.

All-School Reunion Gathering

More than 200 alumnae, family and friends attended this year's All-School Reunion on June 2.

The annual event began with Mass celebrated by Fr. Steve Ryan, Chaplain at Creighton University's School of Dentistry. He reminded the audience that "prayer is simply a conversation with your beloved, your God."

The Mercy High School Alumnae Choir led participants in song and Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM, President, welcomed the group back to school. More than 35 members of the class of 1969 also received their Golden Guild pins.

After Mass, attendees gathered in the gym with many classes sitting at tables together. Kaylea Dunn '96, Alumnae Council President, presented Ann Bendon Wieberg '57 with the 2019 Distinguished Woman of Mercy Award. Ann shared her Mercy connections through the years, and how the school has been an integral part of her family's life.

Wieberg Named Mercy Alumna Award Recipient

St. Thomas Aquinas said, "The family is God's greatest masterpiece." Ann Bendon Wieberg '57 has been working on that masterpiece all her life.

Motivated by faith and devoting her time and energy to family, she has led a life as a Woman of Mercy. For Ann, that family has not only included her immediate family but also her Mercy family and community. She was named the 2019 Distinguished Woman of Mercy, an award given by the Mercy High School Alumnae Council.

The award recognizes an alumna for her outstanding achievements, service, and contributions that promote the growth of faith, knowledge and service in her career, community and/or society. As the recipient of this award, the honoree is someone who is respected by her peers, outstanding in her field, and promotes good for society.

Ann started high school at St. John's and migrated to Mercy when the schools joined in 1955. Her parents wanted her to go to a Catholic school, and St. John's was the logical choice since the family attended St. John's Church.

When Ann was 15, her mother passed away. As the oldest of six, she stepped up and helped care for her siblings, the youngest a 15-month old. This did not allow time for after-school activities, but Ann loved her Latin and English classes and how the Mercy commitment to a faith-based education reinforced her values.

"At Mercy the teachers cared about you, modeled positive behavior, and instilled in us both academic and life lessons."

"Service was not an after-thought; it was part of everything we did. I also made lifelong friends I still have today," she said.

Because of family obligations, she could not afford to go on to college. She started working two weeks after graduation at AT&T. Ann married John Wieberg in 1963 and started her own family. She had five children, including four daughters who also attended Mercy: Angela Wieberg Maynard '83, Susan Wieberg Meschede '84, Mary Ann Wieberg Tietjen '90 and Theresa Wieberg Cook '98.

"My husband John and I felt it was important for our girls to go to Mercy. The value of a same-sex education was undeniable, and it gave our girls leadership opportunities they would not have experienced anywhere else," she said.

Over the years, in addition to providing support as a Mercy parent, she volunteered for Right to Life, delivered meals to families at shelters, and kept active in her church and community by serving on the Parish Council and School Board. She also tries to bring a feeling of family to her friends who are homebound by connecting with them on a regular basis.

Her love of Mercy runs deep. She has served on the school's Alumnae Council for five years. The Golden Guild Tea, where alumnae who graduated 50 or more years ago come back to the school to be honored, was her brainchild.

"This celebration is a nice way for women of my age to connect with the school and their classmates," she said.

Her family masterpiece continues to be created. Three sisters, two nieces and all three granddaughters have attended Mercy. The third, Kate Tietjen, graduated this past May.

Ann's nominator said, "With great dedication and humility, she excels in all areas that make up the recipient of this award. She is truly the epitome of a Woman of Mercy."

Ann received her award at the 2019 All-School Reunion.

Mercy Graduates Earn $6 Million in Scholarships

Sixty-six students graduated in May. Seventy-five percent of the graduates earned more than $6 million in scholarships and as a whole, the class has been accepted to 59 higher education institutions.

This year's valedictorian was Emma Weis. She was a Senior Class Officer, Student Ambassador, and a member of Mock Trial, National Honor Society (NHS), and Yearbook. She also served as President of the Baking Club and Math Club. She played soccer all four years and was co-captain of the varsity squad. Emma volunteered at the Munroe Meyer Institute where she is now currently employed and attended the service trip at Misericordia in Chicago her junior year. Emma is also part of a Mercy legacy. Her mom, Francie Riedmann Weis '81, and her grandmother, Rita Ostblom Weis SJ '54, and four of her aunts attended Mercy. She received numerous academic honors and seven scholarships from various colleges. Emma plans to attend the University of Nebraska at Kearney, majoring in Biology on a Pre-Medicine track. Emma also signed a letter of intent to play soccer there.

During her speech, she reminded the Class of 2019 that they can make a difference:

"We care so deeply about each other and the world, and we will not sit quietly. We are filled with compassion and passion, and we are going to change the world. If someone told me 20 years down that road that one of my classmates became a congresswomen or even president, I would not be surprised. Every single one of my classmates has grown in her confidence and beliefs these last four years," she said.

Alexia Rains was this year's salutatorian. She has been a member of Student Council for three years, a member of National Honor Society, served as a Student Ambassador, and was in Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA). The student-athlete played soccer all four years and was a co-captain of the varsity squad for two years. Alexia was the Mercy Day Director her senior year and has participated in service-related projects including Operation Others. Alexia's sisters, Kaleena '14 and Malia '16, graduated from Mercy. Alexia plans to attend the University of Nebraska Omaha and major in Biotechnology. Alexia received nine scholarships from several colleges.

Alexia complimented the faculty during her speech:

"The faculty and staff at Mercy High School have taught us more than they'll ever realize. But most importantly they have taught us that with the right mindset and work ethic we possess the power to make a difference. That is the type of education that you can't put a price tag on. A good teacher can teach a student to earn an 'A'. A great teacher can give any student the foundation they need to succeed regardless of the subject matter. Mercy High School is the jackpot of great teachers. Mercy wouldn't be Mercy without the teachers and staff who work everyday to teach us the important lessons in life," she said.

Passion for Service

Service learning is an integral part of the curriculum at Mercy. The school prepares our graduates to embrace the challenges of the future from a strong moral and intellectual foundation.

During the last six months, there were numerous opportunities for students to participate in service-related activities. Here are a few highlights:

- The National Honor Society and Holy Cross Catholic School sponsored a blood drive through the Red Cross to provide life-saving blood.

- During Catholic Schools Week, students created Valentines to send to children in hospitals. This is part of The Elysa Foundation's annual Letters from Angels event.

- Mercy High School is part of a national network for Mercy education called the Mercy Girl Effect that supports educational efforts around the world. This year's Mission Week, entitled Mercy Houses CommUNITY, raised funds to provide basic necessities for displaced Syrian refugees living in camps in Lebanon. Sisters of Mercy are on the ground there providing help. The Student Council-led activity raised more than $18,000. Activities included presentations on the mission in Theology classes, a dodge ball tournament, a penny war, a soup cook-off, writing postcards, making friendship bracelets for refugees, selling T-shirts and wrist bands, and SIESTA: a fun, festival-like event. The week culminated with the Glow Dance.

- During spring break, six girls along with faculty sponsors visited Misericordia. This community of care, operated by the Sisters of Mercy, maximizes potential for persons with mild to profound developmental disabilities. The operation serves more than 600 children and adults from diverse racial, religious and socio-economic backgrounds. Students and sponsors worked alongside residents in a variety of areas including: technology, art, life skills, bakery, coffee packaging, gardening, laundry and recycling.

- Students from the Poetry for Life Club love to read and write poetry and have been visiting a local retirement home to share their passion with the residents.

May Crowning Honors Mary, Students

One of the most meaningful traditions at Mercy High School is May Crowning. The ceremony honors Mother Mary by selecting a senior to be May Queen who exemplifies the qualities of Mary. She crowns Mary's statue with a circlet of flowers. The May Queen is accompanied by the May Court, which includes representatives from each class.

This year's May Queen was Allison Vana, President of the Senior Class. She has been a class officer all of her four years at Mercy, ran Cross Country since sophomore year, and also ran in Track. A member of the National Honor Society her junior and senior year, she has participated in Art Club and Math Club and was on the tech crew for "Alice in Wonderland." She was chosen for the Nocturne Court as a sophomore. Her service activities included volunteering at St. Gerald Elementary School, participating in the JDRF One Walk, and helping with FIESTA.

Vana belongs to St. Gerald Catholic Church and is joined at Mercy by her sister, Ann, who is a sophomore. Vana is making final plans for college and is hoping to major in Education.

When asked about being chosen, Vana expressed gratitude for her role models that have sacrificed for her, especially her mother.

"I am extremely honored and somewhat taken aback that I was selected. It is thanks to the wonderful people around me that I am receiving this recognition," she said.

Joining her on the May Court were:

Seniors: Jennifer Carpenter and Claire Fink

Juniors: Kayleen Gruhn and Gianna Jergovic

Sophomores: Kateri Pantoja and Kelliaine Villalava

Freshmen: Cecilia Galardi and Aluel Mareng

The ceremony included class processions and a blessing from Father Mike Eckley, Board of Trustees member and Servant Minister of the Archdiocese of Omaha. Each class recited a decade of the rosary. The final decade was led by faculty, staff, and the May Court. In addition, seniors wore their caps and gowns for the first time.

Kaleidoscope Takes Flight

Mercy High School is committed to providing our students with knowledge and confidence to help them succeed. This is why Mercy introduced Kaleidoscope.

This new, unique four-year leadership and empowerment program encourages each student to maximize individual strengths while providing a series of progressive opportunities to help each student reach her greatest potential. The program's name was chosen because a group of butterflies is called a kaleidoscope.

Working with the school's Counseling Department, the Kaleidoscope program maps out a leadership curriculum that builds on the OnToCollege with John Baylor ACT preparation which is provided free to every student.

Using other community-based support including local businesses, influential community leaders, mental health and financial literacy experts, as well as alumnae and school resources, students now have better access to the tools and materials needed to help create a plan of personal development.

"Kaleidoscope is intended to complement our already rigorous academic programs by providing our students with the life-skills to assist them outside of the classroom. And much like a kaleidoscope of butterflies evolves to their ever-changing environment, so too does this program!" said Mercy's President, Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM.

Elements of the program this year included:

- Freshman introduction into Gallup's Builder Profile 10, an assessment geared toward entrepreneurship and innovation.
- Sophomore introduction to CliftonStrengths, Gallup's strengths assessment.
- A leadership symposium for sophomores that provided dialogue and connections with female community and business leaders. Marquee participants included leaders from Creighton University, College of St. Mary, CHI Health, Methodist Hospital, Mutual of Omaha, The Lozier Corporation, Nebraska Families Collaborative, the Heider Foundation, the Archdiocese of Omaha, and Wells Fargo.
- Social and mental health awareness through a presentation from a mental health expert from CHI Health to discuss societal pressures, mental health, and strategies for coping with these issues.
- Career exploration for sophomores and seniors who were matched with alumnae in the careers they are interested in to learn more about employment possibilities.
- OnToCollege with John Baylor provided standardized testing strategy and preparation for juniors.
- Financial literacy for seniors was provided through a seminar was provided by a community partner, American National Bank, whereby students learned about loans, credit cards, bank accounts, and other relevant financial information.

Additional elements will be added to this program as needs evolve.

Making a Difference in Chicago Communities

One person taking action can make a difference. Just spend a few minutes talking to Caitlin Botsios '08 and her energy and commitment to that premise comes through loud and clear.

The educator, entrepreneur and civic engager has put commitment into action as Co-founder and Chief Innovation Officer for Helix Chicago. Helix's mission is to reduce youth unemployment by opening businesses that provide jobs and skill development for 16-24 year-olds.

Although her parents suggested other high schools, Caitlin was always fascinated with the all-girls high school across the street from her grade school, Holy Cross. The outgoing student wanted to be involved in theatre and wanted to leverage the many leadership opportunities available at a modestly sized all-girls high school. And involved she was.

At Mercy, she was a member of Student Council for three years including being Vice President her senior year, President of the Thespian Chapter, Co Director of the Mercy Day play, a Student Ambassador, member of the Speech Team, Mercy High Singers, Operation Others Core Team, and the Justice and Peace Club.

"I think I was in every play all four years except for one, and I even tried my hand at sports one year. However, perhaps my biggest impact was being a Co-founder of Mission Week," she said.

Mission Week is a week-long schedule of activities held at Mercy to support the international educational goal set by the network of Mercy schools on an annual basis.

Caitlin appreciated the values taught at Mercy including the focus on social consciousness and forward thinking.

"I learned that through service and education a single person can make a difference," she said.

She was determined to leave Nebraska after graduation and attend a college that matched her values. She decided on Loyola University of Chicago because of its Jesuit teachings. Caitlin earned a Bachelor of Arts in Sociology and Communication Studies at Loyola and went on to obtain a Master's in Teaching from Dominican University. She taught middle school for several years. Her love of teaching came naturally. Her mother is a teacher at All Saints Elementary School.

In 2015, she joined WE (previously Free The Children), an international nonprofit focused domestically on service learning and civic engagement, and internationally on holistic, sustainable development. After WE, she served on the national alumni team for Teach For America.

"My experiences in education and working in the nonprofit sector made me keenly aware of the systemic inequities and disparity of services based on zip codes. I believed change could occur if we partnered with communities and applied education and business acumen to the root causes of inequity like unemployment and disproportionate services in neighborhoods. That is how Helix was formed," she said.

According to Caitlin, Helix collaborates across sectors and partners with community members to determine what neighborhood needs are not being addressed. They then open businesses that address those needs and employ primarily 16-24 year-olds within the business. The first endeavor of the group was opening Helix Café in May 2019 in the Edgewater community in Chicago. The full-service café employs 10 workers who receive on-the-job training, weekly pay and personal and professional development. The organization is also developing a youth entrepreneurship summer camp and is working with local chambers, businesses, and colleges to create a pipeline to the next opportunity for employees.

"Mercy certainly highlighted for me how service and social enterprises can have measurable impact on people. It showed me the importance of community and how working together through a network can help you to build and organize," she said.

Caitlin still keeps in touch with many of her classmates and lives a few blocks away from a Mercy graduate.

"At Mercy there is this wonderful community that is with you the rest of your life. Classmates are a diverse but like-minded group from all walks of life," she said.

Her classmates would be proud. Caitlin's voice and action has made a difference. Just ask those benefiting from Helix.

Monarch Parents Club Supports School

Trivia Night, creation and selling of spirit wear, the Back to School Picnic, Mom's Mass and Brunch, Father-Daughter Bowling, Teacher Appreciation Day, concessions for home sporting events and hospitality for events at Mercy are activities coordinated by the Monarch Parents Club.

The goals of this club include financially supporting extracurricular activities and providing social events to bring the school together.

The Monarch Parents Club began in the 2008-2009 school year, but it was not called the Monarch Parents Club. There was a Parent's Club and a Monarch Club. The Parent's Club focused on getting the parents of Mercy girls involved with the school and putting on events. The Monarch Club's sole focus was supporting the students; it was an all-encompassing athletic and fine arts booster club.

In 2014 the two clubs combined so that parents could put on events to financially assist their daughter's extracurricular activities.

One of the popular events sponsored by the group is Trivia Night held in late January. This year was the fifth annual gathering and more than $10,000 was raised.

The club consists of a core group of eight members: two parent representatives from each class for a total of four moms and four dads of Mercy students. Each core group member co-directs two events for the year. The core group meets three times a year and accomplishes the rest of their communication via email. Each member begins with a one-year commitment and is welcome to continue should they choose to do so.

In addition to coordinating special events, the group provides additional financial support for the extracurricular activities. They meet with the Athletic Director, coaches and extracurricular sponsors in an effort to gauge additional needs that fall outside of the regular budget. For example, the club purchased the electronic marquee outside of the main entrance, risers for the Show Choir, an updated sound system in Franey Hall, a branded tent for Cross Country and Track teams, AV equipment, goody bags for faculty and staff and more. Assistant Principal Holly McCoy staffs the group.

Spring Donor Appreciation Event

Mercy is extremely grateful to the individuals and businesses that support the high school.

An appreciation event for key donors was held April 25 at the school. The breakfast featured remarks from Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM, President and Kristi Walters Wessling '88, Principal. Junior students joined the gathering and interacted with donors. The Mercy High Singers also entertained the guests.

Negotiated Tuition Program

Mercy has long believed that a quality, faith-based college preparatory education should be available to any girl who desires it. In that spirit in the late 80's, Sr. Johanna Burnell, President, created the Negotiated Tuition Program. Through the program, an individual covenant regarding financial needs is created with each family.

Mercy's president meets with each family on an annual basis and sets the tuition amount based on the family's financial situation. This is a private negotiation.

"We also take in consideration factors like how many children in the family are going to Catholic school, college tuition, changes in family incomes, caring for sick relatives and more during our discussions," said Sr. Delores.

Over 82 percent of families benefit from the program and annually $1.8 million is distributed in tuition assistance. In fact, Mercy provides more financial assistance per student than any other high school in Omaha.

Since this educational opportunity is so important to the school, it is one of the most important fundraising goals. Financing comes from fundraising events like FIESTA, Food Sale, Plant Sale and other activities and appeals supported by parents, alumnae, volunteers, friends, faculty and staff. Students are part of this fundraising mission and are actively involved in these events. In addition, funding comes from an endowment established by the Sisters of Mercy and friends of Mercy.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Peterson a Fixture at Mercy

He has been a fixture at Mercy High School for more than 48 years. Custodian Milton "Pete" Peterson joined the staff in 1970 as a third-grade engineer working on the boilers, and eventually became a custodian.

He is responsible for everything from mopping floors, to setting up events, cleaning restrooms, general maintenance, making minor repairs and more.

Throughout the 1980s, he lived at the school with his wife and two children in a one-bedroom apartment near the boiler room. Eventually his daughter Laura attended Mercy, graduating in 1987.

"I enjoy working at Mercy because of the sense of community. People work hard and are committed to excellence," he said.

Sr. Delores Hannon, RSM, praises his work ethic and positive attitude and says he has a "smile that lights up any room."

Peterson has logged more years than any other current staff or faculty member.

"I like my job. I feel appreciated for the work I do. As long as I am healthy and believe I can do a good job at Mercy, I will continue to work here," he said.

Sr. Delores feels lucky to have his services.

"Day or night, he is available when we need him. We are blessed to have him as part of the Mercy family," she said.

Mercy Saved Her

Dara Green '94 described herself as a scared and fragile teen when she came to Mercy, who felt misunderstood, and often challenged authority.

She left knowing who she was, confident, and ready for the journey ahead of her.

"Mercy, hands down, saved my life—from my mother's decision to send me to Mercy, to the school tolerating me for my first two years, to embracing me my last two years," she said.

Dara had gone to public school before attending Mercy. Her transition to Catholic school was rocky not only because of assimilation issues but because she had a non-diagnosed anxiety disorder. Luckily in her final two years at the school, she was able to receive outside medical help and the administration and faculty at Mercy worked with her on her anxiety.

After graduation she attended The School of the Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) where she double majored in Ceramics and Art Education.

"Being an artist has been my calling for as long as I can remember. Being an educator was realized as a junior in high school because I wanted to become the type of teacher who strived to understand the misunderstood," she added.

She taught in the Chicago public schools for seven years at the Vaughn Occupational High School, serving students with mild to severe cognitive delays.

"I believe that every student should have the highest quality of art education, despite available funding. I organized and hosted an annual silent auction of student work to fund the program," she added.

In December 2002 she moved to Des Moines, Iowa, where she taught at a couple of public schools before joining the faculty at Central Academy in 2006. The school provides additional programming for gifted and highly motivated high school students.

"Our mission at the Central Academy studio is to inspire passion in our high school students to observe, envision, engage, persist, and reflect on themselves as creators, innovators, and community members through the ceramic arts. In the studio, we use the ceramic arts to teach students the essential skills to be successful in life," she said.

Her pottery program started with a handful of students and has grown to over 100.

As a teacher, Dara embraces differentiated learning styles. Her studio is a flipped classroom, where all the instruction is recorded by the teacher and students can access lessons via YouTube.

"In a flipped classroom instruction is switched. Students do their passive learning outside of the classroom and homework or active learning is done in concert with the teacher, allowing more time for me to work one on one to meet individual needs," she explained.

"My goal as an art educator is for the studio to be student-centered and student-run. Today and tomorrow's students need to learn and be able to fail, persist, think outside the box, and triumph over questions we don't even know exist yet," she said.

Having lived her own experience of struggle and misunderstanding that was mitigated at Mercy, Dara tries to approach each student knowing they all wish to succeed, no matter how compliant they may appear.
